DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's Amendment filed on 8/16/2006 has been entered including amended claims 2-5 and cancelled claim 1. In this Office Action, claims 2-5 are pending.

Priority

2. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d). The examiner considered the priority because of submitting a valid certified copy of the Application Japan 2002 363534 dated 12/16/2002.

Information Disclosure Statement

3. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 8/16/2006 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97 and has been considered by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. § 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

5. Claims 2-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 101, because none of the claims are directed to statutory subject matter. Independent claim 1 is merely claiming nonfunctional descriptive material, i.e., abstract ideas. Even when a claim that recites a computer that solely calculates a mathematical formula or a computer disk that solely stores a mathematical formula is not directed to the type of statutory subject matter eligible for patent protection. The claims are not producing useful, concrete and tangible results. See Diehr, 450 U.S. at 186 and Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 71-72 (1972). See MPEP 2106.01 for details to overcome this rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 2-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sawdon et al. (USPA Pub. 2005/0050110 A1) hereinafter Sawdon, and in view of Russon (US Patent 7028058) hereinafter Russon.

8. As per independent claim 2, Sawdon teaches a method and system for providing a snapshot of a subset of a file system. The first snapshot includes an inode (metadata) corresponding to each source file in the first set of files (page 1, paragraph [0012]). Sawdon teaches the claimed, a reading section to read information stored in or attached to a file of a specified format, wherein the information is defined so as to have a predetermined meaning (Fig. 1, page 3, paragraph [0053]). Sawdon teaches the claimed, a folder name generating section to generate a folder name of a folder to control the file of the specified format on a basis of the information having the predetermined meaning (Fig. 1, page 4, paragraph [0057]).

Sawdon does not explicitly teach determination of image obtained from a digital camera or a scanned image. However, Russon teaches the claimed, a judging section to judge whether the file is obtained by being photographed with a digital camera or by being imagewise captured with a film scanner, digital cameras generate a standard set of metadata known as exchange image file format (EXIF), the metadata contains the date field and in case of "jpg/tiff" files even created of EXIF format the date field will be missing (col. 1, lines 57-60). Russon also teaches the claimed, a transmitting section to transmit a message to ask a user to input the date of capturing the file with the film scanner when the judging section judges that the file is obtained by being imagewise capturing with a film scanner (examiner assumes that using the address from the phone book, a message can be sent) (col. 1, lines 28-38). Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the data processing art at the time of the invention, to have combined the teachings of the cited references because Russon's teachings would have allowed Sawdon's method to provide a user to search for an image based on subject matter using keywords encoded in the image file as metadata. Further, for image sharing, metadata can be used to caption or tell the story behind the images. (col. 2, lines 23-26).

9. As per dependent claim 3, Sawdon teaches the claimed, a date specifying section to specify the capturing date from the image data of the file when the judging section judges that the file is obtained by being imagewise capturing with a film scanner (page 19, paragraph [0198]).

10. As per dependent claim 4, Sawdon does not explicitly teach file is of photographs. However, Russon teaches the claimed, when the file is obtained by being photographed with a digital camera, the folder name generating section generates a folder name for each of a digital camera, a media installed in the digital camera, a photographing date, a file and a predetermined data amount (col. 1, line 57 to col. 2, line 2). Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the data processing art at the time of the invention, to have combined the teachings of the cited references because Russon's teachings would have allowed Sawdon's method to provide a user to search for an image based on subject matter using keywords encoded in the image file as metadata. Further, for image sharing, metadata can be used to caption or tell the story behind the images. (col. 2, lines 23-26).

11. As per dependent claim 5, Sawdon teaches the claimed, when the file is obtained by being imagewise captured with a film scanner, the folder name generating section generates a folder name for each film (Fig. 3, page 3, paragraph [0053]).

Response to Arguments

12. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 2-5 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

13. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
